Monica K. Gilroy, Esquire, appointed Outside Property Management Counsel for NARPM® National

CHESAPEAKE, VIRGINIA – The National Association of Residential Property Managers (NARPM®) has announced the appointment of Monica K. Gilroy, Esquire, Founding Member and Managing Partner of The Gilroy Firm in Atlanta, Georgia, as Outside Property Management Counsel for NARPM National.

The appointment reinforces NARPM's commitment as part of the NARPM 2.0 initiative to provide NARPM Members with experienced and strong legal governance, compliance and strategic legal support.

"Monica brings over 33 years of legal single-family residential property management experience and her trial skills to our Members," said 2026 NARPM President DD Garzon, Master Property Manager (MPM®), Residential Property Manager (RMP®).

"Monica's subject-matter expertise on topics such as Fair Housing, lead-based paint and avoiding liability in property management is a true benefit to the organization," added NARPM CEO Troy Garrett.

Gilroy's national law practice centers on real estate litigation and assisting property management companies, brokers and owners with all aspects of their business. She is also the General Counsel of the Atlanta NARPM Chapter, providing legal services to its Members. As a subject-matter expert, Gilroy works closely with property managers, lenders and real estate companies to handle their litigation matters and develop protocols to prevent recurrence. She was named a Top 50 Woman Attorney in the state of Georgia, and is a national speaker and educator on property management, real estate and related litigation topics.

"I am deeply honored by my inclusion with the incredible NARPM leadership team," Gilroy said. "I am deeply committed to NARPM and its Members and look forward to continuing to work closely with the wonderful Members."
